Introduction

Qualifications Wales is creating a brand-new set of Made-for-Wales GCSEs that will realise the ambition of the new Curriculum for Wales and meet the needs of learners.

Listen to Emyr George, Director of Qualifications Policy & Reform explain the purpose and goal of the consultation here.

We want to reach as many people in Wales as possible so that they can have their say on the future of qualifications in Wales. We would really appreciate your help to spread the word so that we can gather views from learners, parents/carers, teachers, employers and members of the public.

This toolkit is to help you explain and promote our new 'Have Your Say' consultation on 26 new GCSEs and related qualifications.

We want to support stakeholders across the country to engage with the consultation and have confidence in the detailed design proposals for each subject. In this toolkit, you'll find everything you need to share information on the consultation.

Get involved in the conversation by visiting our dedicated engagement platform and help shape the GCSEs of the future.

The consultation is open between 4 October – 14 December.

'Have Your Say' today.

'Have Your Say'

on new Made-for-Wales GCSEs

Qualifications Wales is creating a brand-new set of GCSEs that will realise the ambition of the new Curriculum for Wales and meet the needs of learners.

They are consulting on proposals for 26 new GCSEs and other related qualifications. These are organised around what the Curriculum for Wales refers to as the six Areas of Learning and Experience.

Qualifications Wales wants people's opinions on the content and ways of assessing the new qualifications that will be available from 2025.

The proposed qualifications include new combined GCSEs in The Sciences (incorporating Biology, Chemistry and Physics), Cymraeg Language and Literature, English Language and Literature, and Mathematics and Numeracy.

Qualifications Wales also wants people across the country to share their views on the content and assessment of brand-new GCSEs in Social Studies, Engineering, Film and Digital Media, and Dance.

The aim is for all proposed new GCSEs and related qualifications to offer:

- Opportunities for learners to demonstrate skills, knowledge and experiences gained from studying the Curriculum for Wales
- Flexible content and assessments to help schools design their own curricula and meet the needs of their learners
- A balanced mix of assessment methods, with less emphasis on exams and more opportunities for learners to be assessed during their course of study
- More effective use of digital technology in assessments

PowerPoint Presentation

A screenshot of a PowerPoint presentation slide with an orange background. At the top left, there are two speech bubbles: one with 'HAVE YOUR SAY' and another with 'DWEUD EICH DWEUD'. To the right, there are logos for 'QUALIFIED FOR THE FUTURE' and 'CYMWYS AR GYFER Y DYFODOL', along with the 'CYMYSYTERAU CYNU QUALIFICATIONS WALES' logo. The main text on the slide reads: 'Have Your Say' On future GCSEs in Wales, followed by 'Dweud Eich Dweud' ar gymwysterau TGAU'r dyfodol yng Nghymru. The bottom right features a large, colorful illustration of people interacting with various symbols like gears, arrows, and signs. At the very bottom, there are two website URLs: haveyoursay.qualifications.wales and dweuideichdweud.cymwysterau.cymru.
